OUT MEANS OUT

Right Hon. J. H. Thomas told the British House of Commons the Government will not enter into further agreements with the Free State Government, should the abolition bill be made law.The inference is that the British Government will assume the Free State to have that taken itself out of the Empire and to be no longer entitled to the free admission of its products into British markets.The other Dominions will of course benefit to the extent that the Dail thus deprives the Free State of a market for the products of its farms and factories.

THERE ARE OTHERS

Edmonton property-owners will be interested in the statement that "In New York you can take your choice of properties offered for sale at about half the city's assessed taxation."The Edmonton owner who gets blue whenever he reflects on what his property costs him and how little he could get for it at present, will be satisfied to learn that he is not the victim of a partial fate. His contemporary in New York, and in every other city, is in much the same plight.While property values have shrunk, assessment values have not shrunk in proportion. If they had, most taxes would be collecting, or trying to collect, taxes at a rate of ten per cent or more.

GOOD LUCK TO THEM

The University of Alberta is no longer really young, no small. The 32nd convocation, held on Friday, signifies that it has come of age. A graduating class of 317 shows how it has grown in attendance, courses of study and importance.The people of Alberta have been proud of their University, of the record it has made, of the high standards it demands from those who seek its distinction, of the recognized place it holds among Canadian institutions, of the splendid facilities it offers for those seeking higher education.They are proud also, and have cause to be, of the men and women who have gone out from the University into professional and business life during these last twenty-two years. Their good wishes go with the new recruits to the ranks of graduates. May they find distinction, may they find best of all, usefulness, in their chosen callings.

THE FEAST OF MUSIC

The provincial musical festival opens in Edmonton tonight. The number of entries shows that there will be more competitors than at any previous festival held in this city, while only one has the number been exceeded in the history of this annual provincial event.The festival has not hit the popular love of good music. That at least may be set down to the credit of humans, who are being accused just now of a wide variety of faults and follies than ever before. Perhaps appreciation of the arts and the fruits of cultural effort is broader when opportunities for material gain are less engrossing.That the festival will be successful, from a technical standpoint, cannot be doubted. The large number and the great number of entries guarantee that there may be equal confidence that it will attract the public attention that has been the people are multitudes, and will welcome the opportunities offered them in the provincial feast of harmony.

WHOSE RAID WAS IT?

The Manitoba savings office was forced out of business by a "run" of depositors demanding their money. A committee of the legislature reports that the "run" was the result of a "deliberate and organized campaign" to force the institution.Manitoba is to have a general provincial election. It is to be supposed the wrecking of the provisional savings office will figure prominently among the election issues. The Government of Alberta also conducts a savings office, Alberta has been interested in seeing whether an institution of that kind can be wrecked without a violent reaction on the part of the public.If a campaign of the kind can be staged in Manitoba, and nothing else of it, a similar campaign can be staged elsewhere, and likely will be. And if against a provincial savings bank, why not against any other publicly-owned enterprise?Before the Manitoba voters are asked to say what they think of the way their affairs have been managed, the Government of Alberta should be made plain to the public, through a commission or otherwise, who organized the wrecking campaign,
and with what object in view beyond the destruction of the institution itself.

WHY BUY A LICENSE?

The owner of a radio receiving set is required to secure a new license by the end of the present month, if he wishes to "listen in" during the next year.The new license will cost him $2. If he buys it.
He will have paid only $1 for the privilege of "listening in" during the next year.The price has been doubled. What is being done or what is to be done, to improve the service and make it worth the doubled price?That is the question which radio-owners all over the country are asking themselves just now. Whenever they recognize it or not, it is therefore also the question that is confronting the Dominion Government and Parliament.The Government has come to terms with the bill to establish broadcasting as a national service.
If that bill is passed, radio-owners everywhere will gladly pay the double license fee, in hope and confidence that they will get value for their money.If it is shelved as a result of the lobbying activities of private interests, a good many radio-owners are likely to refuse to buy licenses, in sure and certain knowledge that they will get nothing of the kind.A one dollar license fee has been an altogether exorbitant charge for the privilege of being bomarded by the constant advertising spew that have been the major output of Canadian broadcasting stations. To suppose that the victims will pay two dollars for another year of the same treatment is to suppose that with an average foolishness they may not possess.If the Government wants to sell radio licenses it had better nuke the bill through Parliament without delay, and give the radio-owners the assurance that they will get a fair run for their money.

ing on the Souris extension of the C.P.R.
C. Beebe, who arrived recently from Washing-being placed in the new cemetery.The temporary committee of the proposed Athletic Association have an offer from the B. C. Co.

years.Caron and Sarasin's creamery, Sturgeon river

Alexander Macdonald, resident boss of this place, and who resided in Edmonton some years ago, was killed by a train at Seattle.What reading is completed in this district and a great deal of the work of the C.P.R.By the new redistribution bill the number of members of parliament will be reduced from 215 to 212.The town council proposes to raise $25,000 to debentures for permanent improvements, such as fire appliances, sidewalks, grading, ditching, fire hall and site, market site and expropriation of lands.

culture, is dead.Friends of Sir Wilfrid Laurier presented him with an oil painting of himself.
The volcano on St. Vincent Island is still in eruption, and an area eight miles across is covered with lava.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

For one whole day Edmonton has rioted in real estate. The city has glided into the dream of golden dollars easily acquired. Today it is slowly awakening and returning to the less paid but no less sure method of buying and selling real land.
In short, the draw of the day for the purchase of lots in the H. B. reserve is over, and today lucky winners will commence buying the thirteen hundred lots put on the market.London: Premier Lloyd George gave a demonstration at the Royal Institute yesterday of an invention by means of which cinematograph films and gramophone records, taken of a public man making a speech, can be presented simultaneously with the sounds and movements in perfect union.

TEN YEARS AGO

London: Members of the House of Commons today listened in tense silence to the narrative of Turkish atrocities given by Austen Chamberlain, the Government leader. Mr. Chamberlain related the story of the deportations of Christian militaries, and the deaths of thousands of victims by the way, stating that Great Britain had asked for the co-operation of the United States, France and Italy in investigating the atrocities.Calgary: Unless farmers in southern Alberta adopt an active campaign against grasshoppers, there will be a famine in that part of the province,
is the statement of Professor Strickland, professor of entomology in the University of Alberta.Paris: In eight years the United States Red Cross has spent more than $400,000,000 in Europe.
COUNSEL TO CALLERSBy EDGAR A. GUEST.
In times like these a caller should Observe the blossoms here and there,
And search his little neighborhood
For objects bright and fair.Who tips upon another's door
And leaves a heavy load
Should come with cheer or comfort,
"There need be no get on."The need is now for faith and strength;
So much there is of fear and doubt,
That he who walks a full mile's length
Should seek some kinder tale to tell about.Crushed by the tyranny of fear,
The quivering souls of men await
The friend who has a word of cheer,
God grant he come ere it's too late.

murder tragedy" to degenerate into a farce.

BEING GOOD WIFE IS RISKIEST JOB

"My dear," said a wife woman to her daughter who was going to be married, "you want to do a good wife and do a good wife that station if you get just what I mean. They never strike a happy medium, and so they have their virtues too, or else they are all vices and no virtues, and they either starve their husbands to death for a little kindness or else they suffocate them on kindness."

"So here are a few signposts that I want to erect along the pathway of matrimony that will enable you to keep to the middle of the road, which is safe and exciting, and will prevent you from falling into the ditch on either side."

"DON'T LOVE YOUR HUSBAND TOO MUCH. Gr. at any rate, don't let him find out if you do. Don't let him get the idea that you will go on worshipping him. Your mother has been in love with her husband for years, and she feels you or treats you. Make him feel that he has to be on his tiptoes all the time to hold your affection."

"Don't overdo the wife business. Don't always be asserting your ownership and for Heaven's sake, don't make haste to parade your authority in public. Have a wife manages her husband in her own secret affair that she should be revealed to any one."

"Don't make a doorman of yourself for your husband to wait on. He will kick you around if you do after the manner in which he will treat a doorman. Don't let him enslave you, for he will have respect for you."

"Don't ask too much of your husband. Don't expect him to give up all of his old friends and acquaintances and amusements for you and to have no interest outside of you. Don't expect him to always to want to do the things that you want to do. Don't demand better clothes and houses than he can afford to give you."

"But don't ask too little of your husband, either. A woman can do a great deal for her husband, and he comes to the place where he takes it for granted that she enjoys being a mother and has no natural womanly desires."

"Be a pal. Be your husband's best friend. Enter into his life, and share his joys and sorrows. Encourage him to talk about his business and his hopes and plans and ambitions. For every man has to have some woman confidante to whom he can tell the things that he would be ashamed to tell any other one."

Gruesome Evidence Is Tended At Ruuska Trial

Finnish Farmer on Trial for Slaying Wife in February

W. R. Howson, Defence Counsel, May Make Plea of Insanity

Gruesome in the extreme was the evidence tendered this morning at the trial of William Ruuska, Finnish farmer of Waskas, who is charged with the murder of his wife Hulda at the Fairview estate in Edmonton, on the afternoon of Saturday, February 27, last.

Full and the spectators were women, who listened with avid interest to the story of the national troubles of the Ruuskas, which led to the man cutting his wife's throat and dismembering her with a razor in an ineffectual attempt to commit suicide.

From the cross-examination of W. R. Howson, M.L.A., who is conducting the defence, it was learned that a plea will be made that the deed was committed in a state of insanity.

"He didn't shoot his wife," Howson said, "he strangled her."

"He didn't call her lawyer a liar," Howson said, "he called her a liar."

WOMAN PROVOKING

"What was your provoking?" asked Mr. Howson.

"I was provoked," Howson said, "I was provoked by the fact that she was a liar."

Dr. T. H. Field, who was called to the witness stand, testified that he had examined the body of the deceased woman, and that he found no signs of life.

"I found her dead," Dr. Field said, "I found her dead."

Chief Justice Simmons is presiding over the trial, with Mr. C. W. Howson, M.L.A., as counsel for the defence.

"I found her dead," Dr. Field said, "I found her dead."

Chicago White Sox pounded Detroit Tigers for nine hits, including three in the first two innings to beat Detroit, 6-2.

IN WINNING MOOD
Saturday's games in the National League provided different opponents, but Boston Braves were once again in a winning mood, defeating Brooklyn Dodgers, 7-0.

Riverdale Opposes C.N.R. In Opening League Game

Big Four Baseball League Games Away Tonight at Boyle Street

Baseball moves into the local sporting spotlight tonight as the Riverdale and C.N.R. teams meet at Boyle Street park when the Riverdale Flatters and George Anderson's C.N.R. nine play open the Big Four Baseball League season. Game time is called for 6:30 sharp.

Mayor Knott has condescended to throw the first ball, the ceremonies will be brief, in order to get the game started on schedule and give fans sufficient time to attend the Grand-Gracia basketball game at the arena.

OLD RIVALS
The Railroaders came to grips last fall in the playoff series for the Big Four title. Riverdale took the leading role in an interesting series but Manager Anderson intends to repeat his success by grabbing the opener thus getting his club off to a flying start.

The Railroaders are fielding, possibly the youngest team in the circuit, but they are well known for their sufficient youth into the machine to make the games interesting for the spectators.

The C.N.R. will introduce a change in their pitching selection with Red McLeure darning the big mitt and mask.

OVERSEEN NEW
First base will be in charge of Otto Rimstad, a youngster making his first appearance in baseball before the public. Eddie Clark will perform at the middle of the infield and the right fielder will be Henry Burt. Left fielding the shortstop berth, Henry is well known to the sporting public by his activities in junior hockey last season as a member of the Canadienne. Denny Haggis is scheduled for third base. Manager Anderson and Johnny Campbell will patrol right and center field respectively while the remaining berth, left, awaits word to enter after Alex Gillies or Jack Harris.

St. Johns will be held in reserve as a reserve pitcher. Stan McLeure ready to take the mound in case of an emergency.

Manager Dave Little will call on the good left arm of Dave Little to make the away base. Duke established a remarkable pitching record in his first year of Big Four competition and it was largely through his ability that Riverdale captured the title.

SEEDS OF PROGRESS

"Real progress is going on all around us... Men and women are learning to abandon vain chasing after easy wealth... To each of them is coming home, all too slowly, realization that the world is not about to fall into ruin, but that we must face the need of more thrift and industry, of less haste and waste."

The Man Hunters

SUNAN CAREY, party secretary at the home of the young millionaire met at business end of a party given by DENISE ACKROYD, sister of the young man who had been the victim of a "LAMPMAN" murder case.

WARRING, DENISE's sister, was also present. She was a very attractive girl, and she was the one who had been the victim of a "LAMPMAN" murder case.

NEW GOWN WITH STORY

CHAPTER XXXI

"ARE you with the Gledings?"

Jack Warring smiled down at the heart shaped face tilted up to his.

Denise narrowed her long eyes at him. "I thought you were leaving Gleding said they were having a very smooth man out for the New Year's abiding."

Warring continued to smile mockingly. "And I'm the only one who answers that description, I suppose."

Denise shrugged. "Well, pretty much. The rest are mostly indians from college for the holidays. You couldn't really call them men."

Her disdainful glance swept over the bright room.

"Not even that one?" Warring inquired with a lift of one eyebrow.

Denise pointed to a tall, fair haired young man glowering in the background. "He looks fairly good."

"Oh, Bobby?" Denise took the trouble to throw a provocative glance in the young man's direction.

"Of course, I didn't know," she said. "I didn't know."

The music had stopped and the dancing had begun in the direction of the bar.

Denise clung to the warring's arm, her cheeks a greenish yellow with swirling around her.

"Laura had some really good tables for two. Don't you think?"

"Scolded!" the man agreed. "It's a good party. But don't you think my mind if I carry you off like this?"

Denise said. "Never mind about that. I'm a fearful terror any way. I'll let him go."

Warring found a little room under the balcony in the big hall. The man noticed with little interest that his companion's truck was by far the most outrageously revealing in the place.

In front of the body was demurely cut but there was the nearest ribbon at the back. What he could not know was that Denise had a mother, a father, a sister, a woman, had spent hours trying to get the girl out of her mind.

What were young girls thinking of doing? They were grown which ten years ago had been a very rare thing by women of the half world.

That was the young girl's of the opposite. Denise flashed at Warring.

SOCCER RIVALS BEAT SCOTSMEN

"The Rest" Too Good for Kilted Eleven

An interesting soccer match between "Scotts" vs. "The Rest" of McAviney's Limited was played at Victoria High School grounds Saturday night and resulted in a triumph for the team from across the border by a score of 2-1.

The score fairly well represented the run of play, with "The Rest" forwards taking more advantage of their opportunities to eventually earn the verdict.

Mitchell scored both goals for the winners, while Pat McCabe tallied the lone goal for the Scotsmen.

Pat and Jimmy McCabe and Bill Boyd were always outstanding for the Scots, with Pat McCabe also in the thick of the play. Archie McAviney was another who took a prominent part in the hostilities.

Frank Visser and Joe Smith were the pick of "The Rest" forwards, all of whom showed to advantage throughout the match.

A smacking contest followed the game and it was announced that McAviney's were open to receive challenges from any local rivals.

Hockey Magnates In Saskatchewan Make Early Plans

SASKATON, May 16.—W. W. McCool, Saskatoon, was re-elected president of the Saskatchewan Amateur Hockey association at its twentieth annual meeting held here Saturday.

Other officials elected were vice-president D. J. Mitchell, Weyburn; secretary-treasurer C. J. Carstairs, Saskatoon; executive R. S. Cruickshanks (North Battleford); D. J. White (Swift Current); A. C. Anderson (Dallies); Johnny Walker (Saskatoon); Irvine Borgot (Dumbold); "Goldie" Smith (Melville); Wes. Chas. (Regina); and Sid Dent (Moose Jaw).

A long controversy arose over the action of the C.A.A. in removing the name of the Melville Millionaires from the Allan cup. The question was finally decided by the president appointing a committee of three to investigate the rules of the Allan cup at the time Melville won it, and if it is found to be a challenge cup at that time, the association should protest the removal of Melville's name and ask for its reinstatement.

Several changes were made in the constitution, the chief one being that the date of registration of senior and junior teams was set for December 15, and intermediates on January 1, and that one-fifth per cent of the gate in the junior play-downs would be collected by the association except in the North and South final.

The association decided to support its intermediate winners in the Western Canada intermediate play-downs with Manitoba, Alberta and British Columbia.

The Northern Saskatchewan Senior league, which in the past has been an independent organization, was granted affiliation with the S. A. H. A. with a power to govern its own affairs and play-offs.

The secretary-treasurer's report showed that the association operated at a profit of $800 last season.

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin. RED DEER, Alta., May 16.—Red Deer's annual summer fair will be held on July 25, 26 and 27, it having been announced by the fair board.

The fair is in spite of some curtailment in funds. The prize list, which was submitted by a special committee, has been approved and the printing of it will go ahead.

The municipal districts of Pine Lake and Golden West will be interviewed with respect to money grants to the fair.

Instead of some outside concern having the midway this year the Red Deer Elks have offered to handle the concessions, and their offer has been accepted by the agricultural society.

Have You Read "THE PASSING SHOW" In Today's BULLETIN?

IF YOU are a regular Bulletin reader, it is almost certain that your answer to the above question will be a decided "Yes!"

"The Passing Show" is not a syndicate feature; it is written in the Bulletin office every day for Bulletin readers. J. S. Cowper, who writes it, is a newspaper man of lengthy and widespread experience in almost every quarter of the globe. As a newspaper reporter, it has fallen to his lot to cover some of the most notorious headline events of the past quarter of a century.

Great crimes, great mysteries, outstanding trials, and varied happenings that held the front page and kept the world of their day in suspense — have all been gathered into his net as part and parcel of the daily round. And now, under the caption of "The Passing Show," he chats to Bulletin readers about current topics. With a ripe fund of personal anecdote to draw upon and a pleasant humor, he sheds illumination upon those matters which tend toward the forefront of public interest.

He does not pose as a wiseacre or as a high-brow. His style and easy tempo suggest that of one who is by no means a monopolist of conversation, but a listener and an observer as well.

Yes, "The Passing Show" is a feature that grows on one more and more every day.
